Referees Nominated By the Applicant

(11) Applicants should not provide referees with whom they have a familial or personal relationship. Professional friendships and collegial relationships are normal and expected.

(12) Applicants are not required to obtain and submit referee reports. Similar to a recruitment process, referees will be contacted by Human Resources to complete a reference for the applicant. It is the responsibility of the applicant, however, to obtain the referee's agreement to provide a reference before nominating them in the application.

Independent Referees

(13) The University, on the recommendation of the Executive Dean, will invite two additional referees for applicants to Levels D and E.

(14) An independent referee must be someone external to the University at the level of Professor or of equivalent standing in industry, government or community, who has not worked directly with the applicant in the last five (5) years and who is recognised in their field and can provide an objective assessment of the quality of applicant's work.

(15) The process will be as follows:

- a. The Head of Department will provide the Executive Dean with a list of five (5) suggested names, ensuring that appropriate referees are selected in terms of providing an independent assessment of an application and there is no conflict of interest (e.g. they are not former supervisors or co-authors). The Head of Department may consult with others when selecting independent referees.
- b. The Executive Dean will rank the nominated referees. The rank ordered list will be forwarded to Human Resources.
- c. Human Resources will contact the first two (2) referees on the rank ordered list to see if they are willing to serve. Depending on availability, two (2) referees will be selected from the list and will be asked to complete a reference for the applicant.
- d. The applicant should not be advised of the final selection of independent referees.

Head of Department Report

(16) The Head of Department Report is prepared by the Head of Department and must be endorsed by the Executive Dean.

(17) Where the Head of Department is applying for promotion, the Head of Department is to consult with the Executive Dean. The Executive Dean will nominate another member of staff to assume responsibility for completing the Head of Department Report.

(18) The purpose of the Head of Department Report is to:

- a. detail the standards of performance expected of academic staff in the department; and
- b. consider the applicant's performance against these standards (relative to opportunity, workload allocation and nature of appointment) and whether or not the applicant meets criteria for promotion.

(19) It is the responsibility of the applicant to:

- a. advise the Head of Department of their intention to apply in the current round;
- b. provide the Head of Department with a copy of their application; and
- c. provide the Head of Department with sufficient time for the preparation of the Head of Department Report.

(20) If the applicant does not agree with or wishes to clarify the comments made by the Head of Department, the applicant may provide a response to the Head of Department Report and submit it with their application.

Supporting Evidence

(21) Applicants may wish to include up to five (5) pieces of evidence with their application in support of their performance and achievements.

(22) Applicants may be called upon at the time of their interview to provide a specific source of evidence or supporting material, for example, a particular research publication or teaching evaluations. Applicants must ensure they have an ORCID and that their information is up to date in the Research Management System as it may be referred to by the Committee during the process.

Applicants to Levels B and C	FPC Chair notifies: Applicant Head of Department (or Head of Office for non-Faculty applicants)
Applicants to Levels D and E	UPC Chair notifies FPC Chair. FPC Chair is then responsible for notifying: Applicant Head of Department

(58) HR will prepare notification letters for each applicant.

(59) Unsuccessful applicants are encouraged to meet with the Executive Dean to discuss feedback and may also seek feedback from the UPC Chair. Applicants should use this advice, in consultation with their performance supervisor, when revising Performance Development and Review plans. Applicants are unlikely to be successful in subsequent promotion rounds unless they have addressed recommendations from the Promotions Committee.

Part F - Appeals

(60) Applicants may appeal against the decision of the Promotion Committee only if:

- a. the published academic promotion procedure was not followed; and
- b. this failure had a material effect on the decision not to recommend promotion.

(61) The Promotion Committee's assessment of the academic merit of an application is final and will not be the subject of appeal. This includes assessment against the promotion criteria and allocation of points.

(62) To appeal the Promotion Committee decision, an applicant must:

- a. seek advice and further information, as necessary, directly from the Chair of the Promotion Committee on the reason(s) for the decision not to promote; and

- b. detail the allegations that may demonstrate that the University failed to follow the procedures set down, that this failure had a material effect on the decision not to promote, and that, as a consequence, the case should be reheard; and
- c. submit the appeal in writing to the Chief People Officer with the necessary supporting information, within twenty (20) working days after receipt of notification of the outcome of the original application.

(63) In exceptional circumstances, such as illness or misadventure, the applicant may request an extension to the twenty (20) working day appeal submission deadline. For the extension to be granted it must be approved by:

- c. all promotion application documents submitted to the Promotion Committee(s).

(66) The Appeals Committee will review the documentation and will provide a written recommendation to the Vice-Chancellor, giving reasons as to why the appeal should be:

- a. dismissed; or
- b. upheld.

(67) The Vice-Chancellor will review the recommendation of the Appeals Committee and will make a determination. The Vice-Chancellor's decision is final.

(68) Where the Vice-Chancellor chaired a UPC subject to an appeal, the Vice-Chancellor will nominate a Deputy Vice-Chancellor to consider the appeal and determine the outcome.

(69) If the appeal is upheld the decision will be referred back to the original Promotions Committee for reconsideration (FPC for Level B and C applicants, and UPC for Level D and E applicants). The Promotions Committee will refer to the information originally provided as part of the promotions process and any additional information related to the appeal. The Committee will apply the Academic Promotion Policy and this Procedure, resulting in a decision on whether or not the applicant should be promoted.

(70) If the appeal is not upheld, the application will not be reconsidered and no further appeal will be entertained.

Part G - Out-of-round Promotion

(71) There may be legitimate circumstances when a promotion needs to occur outside the scheduled promotion round

as outlined in the Academic Promotion Policy (clauses 34 to 36).

(72) An out-of-round promotion application must include:

- a. a business case specifying the exceptional circumstances and level of promotion requested;
- b. applicant's CV; and
- c. relevant supporting documentation, e.g. job application and letter of offer from the relevant institution or references from external experts in the same discipline.

(73) The out-of-round promotion application must be completed and endorsed by the Head of Department and relevant Executive Dean and submitted by the Executive Dean to the Chief People Officer.

(74) The application for out-of-round promotion will be considered jointly by:

- a. the Chief People Officer;
- b. the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academic); and
- c. the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research).

Part H - Exemptions

(75) There may be legitimate circumstances where there should be an exception to the standard rules and processes outlined in the Academic Promotion Policy and this Procedure.

(76) An applicant may seek an exemption if:

- a. the applicant has worked for less than two (2) years at Macquarie University since commencement or last promotion; or the applicant is seeking promotion to a level that is more than one level higher than their current level (e.g. seeking promotion from Level B to Level D); or
- b. the applicant is seeking promotion to several levels in the same round (e.g. seeking promotion from Level B to Level C and Level D in the same round); or
- c. the applicant does not otherwise satisfy the requirements of the policy to apply for promotion (excluding casual and honorary appointments).

(77) As a general rule, exemption from the two (2) years of service requirement will not be considered for applicants who have less than one (1) year of service at Macquarie University or who have been at their current level less than one (1) year since last promotion.

(78) An exemption application must include:

- a. a business case specifying the exceptional circumstances as to why the standard rules should not apply and level of promotion requested;
- b. applicant's CV; and
- c. relevant supporting documentation (if applicable).

(79) An exemption application must be endorsed by the Head of Department and relevant Executive Dean and submitted by the Executive Dean to the Chief People Officer.

(80) The exemption application will be considered jointly by the Exemptions Committee:

- a. the Chief People Officer;
- b. the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academic); and

c. the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research).

(81) If exemption is granted, the application for promotion can be lodged and considered through the normal application process. Applicants must submit evidence that the exemption was granted (e.g. an email from HR advising approval from the Exemptions Committee) with their application for promotion. Granting exemption does not mean that the application for promotion is approved.

(82) If exemption is not granted, the Chief People Officer will advise the applicant and provide reasons for the decision. The decision is final and is not subject to appeal.

Part I - Conflict of Interest

(83) In accordance with the Conflict of Interest Policy, each person involved in the promotion process, including all members of a Promotion Committee, are required to consider whether there is any actual, potential or perceived conflict of interest. This may include a business, personal or familial relationship with an applicant.

(84) If any person involved in the promotion process identifies such a conflict, they must declare it to the Promotion Committee Chair as soon as possible.

(85) If a conflict of interest is declared, the Chair will determine an appropriate management plan, in accordance with the Conflict of Interest Policy. Conflicts of interest can normally be effectively managed, with disclosure and transparency being the key principles. If the member remains on the Committee, their views should be canvassed last. In rare circumstances (e.g. when a candidate is a family member) a person may need to step down from the Committee.

(86) Declaration of Conflict of Interest will be a standing agenda item at all Promotion Committee meetings. All declared conflicts of interest and the associated management plans will be recorded in the relevant documentation from the meeting.

(87) Referees are required to disclose any conflict of interest via the prescribed form. If a conflict of interest is identified between the applicant and their nominated referee, the Promotion Committee/s may elect to disregard the referee report.

(88) If a conflict of interest is identified between the applicant and their independent referee, Human Resources may ask the applicant's Executive Dean to provide the name of an alternate independent referee, or the Promotion Committee/s may elect to disregard the referee report.
